SCENTS OF PEACE

Spring Has Sprung!

I love this season! Adorable baby lambs are taking their first shaky steps, trees that looked near dead last week have overnight exploded with green leaves. Bright yellow daffodils are blooming all over rapidly greening hills and everyone seems to be more cheerful. Here in Central Otago the transition from winter to spring has been so sharp, its revitalizing! All around town the pink shock of blossom trees are brightening our days. This time of year allows us to reawaken from our winter slumber, do some spring cleaning, and get outside more often.

We are Online!

I'm so excited to announce that Scents of Peace is now online! Our website features an online store to browse and stock up on your favourite body care and home fragrance products, the ability to read detailed descriptions on scent blends, learn about current specials and access our online customised aromatherapy blending service. Here you can research individual Essential and/or Fragrance oils and design a unique aromatherapy product based on your personal taste and desired effect.

Keep an eye on the Education Corner where I'll be posting articles of interest, simple ways to add aromatherapy to your day, stress reduction techniques and so on. I'd love your comments and contributions for the website, so please email me with ideas and feedback. A huge THANK YOU to Scott Devine of Devine Websites for his astute technical knowledge and endless patience to assist in making this website possible. Visit us at: www.scentsofpeace.co.nz

New Products from the Lab

Over winter I've been busy perfecting recipes for new products that allow you to experience aromatherapy everyday. Our new Natural Aromatherapy Soy Candles will not only add ambiance to your home but you'll also benefit from the inhaling therapeutic properties of our pure, high-grade essential oils scented within. Unlike standard paraffin wax, soy wax is natural, biodegradable and non-toxic. Soy wax candles are superb for aromatherapy because they provide a longer burn time and throw scent better (meaning the scent stays strong for longer and gives off more scent when burned). Available Candle Scents include: Energising—Lemon Grass & Pink Grapefruit, Relaxing—Bergamot, Geranium & Sandalwood, and Tranquillity—Lavender & Vanilla. Order before the 25 September and receive $5.00 off your first Aromatherapy Candle purchase! Please use code "1st candle" when placing your order to receive your discount.

Also fresh from the lab are Natural Lip Balms. These Lip Balms are lovingly handmade with beeswax, sweet almond oil, and vitamin E to help soothe and protect your lips. Flavours available include: Vanilla Mint & Tropical Coconut. These taste as good as they smell! 5gm pot, $5.00, new product special for a limited time only.

New Scent:

Spring Blossom

The fresh spirit of spring has inspired this edition's featured scent blend. Introducing Spring Blossom, a floral blend with a lemony undertone. A premium blend of Bergamot, Geranium and Ylang-ylang essential oils. If you'd like a scent sample of this new blend, contact me and I'll post it to you free of charge. As always, you can choose which product you'd like this scented for. I'm currently using it in a Body Wash and its divine!
